This is a brief overview of some of the aspects of the shift. For more detailed information check out The Mythical Man Month by Fred Brooks. Intelligent Browsers All traffic to the web gets handled by the browsers. But you have a choice of all types of browsers. To choose the one that's best for you, we'll start with some differences between the most popular browsers today. For more information, see wikipedia. Microsoft Edge Mozilla Firefox Chrome Safari Opera iPhone Cell Phone It's Not All About Versions of Windows - Windows 9 Feature Guide: The Basics All these browsers are independent and work on all platforms. But they're all somewhat different, and that's because they all have different developers. New versions of Windows have different features that help make your life on Windows easier. Check out our Windows 9 feature guide for more details. Changing User Interface A lot of the changes you see in Windows 9 look similar to what you're used to in the desktop version of Windows. But some of the interface changes may not be so familiar. The Start Menu Windows 9 has a Start Menu, but it's not the menu you're used to. You may see the familiar Windows 8 style menu, but it can be hidden by holding Windows Key + P or Control Key + P. Windows Key Windows Logo Key Win 8 Windows 8 Windows 8.1 Windows 9 It's important to note that the standard Windows 8 Start Menu is not the same as the Windows 8.1 Start Menu. While the desktop Start Menu is still visible, it's in a different location on the screen. Metro Windows 9 has a special interface for touch screens. It's called Metro, and it looks similar to Windows Phone 7 and Windows Phone 8. This is a new interface for Microsoft, and we'll talk more about it in our Windows Phone 8 review. If you're running Windows Phone 8, you're already familiar with the Metro design. Windows 7 Windows 7's user interface hasn't changed all that much since Windows Vista. All the changes were made to make the interface more efficient. Windows 7's Desktop Windows 7 and Windows XP Before Windows Vista Windows 7 Before Vista f678ea9f9e
